Message from the President...

I think it's safe to say that the last three years have been among the most unusual and challenging of my lifetime. We've had to adjust to so many changes and deal with so many unknowns in our personal and professional lives. Through it all the incredible allegiance and support of our customers has been unwavering. As we've changed the operation of WTH in ways I never imagined before COVID, your steadfast support has allowed us to not only remain in business but to succeed.

As I look back over the more than twenty years that I've owned WTH, I can't think of a time that I've been prouder of our company and our customers. In fact, against some pretty steep odds at times WTH has persevered and thrived. The hard work and dedication of our staff and the steadfast support of our customers has enabled us to serve local communities for over 50 years. From the bottom of our hearts, thank you for your business and support.

After several years apart, we are thrilled to be hosting our 17th Annual WTH User Training Conference for Indiana on May 19th, and May 20th, 2022, at the Fort Harrison State Park and Garrison Conference Center, located in Indianapolis, IN. We truly enjoy the relationships that we have with each of you and are so looking forward to getting together again!

As change has accelerated all around us, we find ourselves with more passion and excitement for serving our customers than ever before. Our family of GIS products is now bringing state of the art GIS solutions to over 152 Counties in 12 States. We are proud to work with a broad group of people in local government: Law Enforcement, 911 Dispatchers, Assessors, Auditors, Engineers, Public Works Professionals and many other agencies and departments. We have seen how successfully implemented Think GIS® solutions have saved lives, money, and taxes. Our software developers, consultants and support staff are working hard to assure our clients that our new GIS tools are a step forward in usefulness and value.

Our hope for 2022 is to strengthen our current relationships, and build a few new ones, while exceeding your expectations for the solutions we deliver and support. One of our customers recently told me, what they really liked about WTH Technology, is that we do business "the old fashioned way", Responsive, Reliable and Relationship driven. This will always be our commitment to you.

Think GIS® Editing – Trevor Bergum

Participants will be encouraged to bring their own laptops and go through the process of creating a GIS project which will utilize all the tools in the Think GIS® editing suite. This session will cover creating/drawing/modifying GIS layers, scaling, and large-scale, multilayer manipulation. This session is guaranteed to give even the most seasoned Think GIS® user new insight into how the program can be used.

The training will follow a set agenda; however, participation and discussion of your own specific user issues are encouraged.

This class qualifies for Continuing Education Credit Hours

Class attendance is limited to

25 participants

in each session.

Each year the training session fills very quickly, so we are holding two identical classes so more of you will have the opportunity to attend.

9:00 am – 12:00pm
~~or 1:00 pm – 4:00pm Afternoon Full~~

Cost is $50.00 per session which includes lunch.

WTH Technology, Inc - 2022 User Training Conference

May 20th, 2022

Presentations

8:45a – 9:45a            Opening Session – Rex Jones/Eric Lowry

Our opening session will start with basic housekeeping and organizational info to help make sure the day runs smoothly. We'll review some important information about our customer service program. We'll update you on the latest regarding WTH product offerings including some exciting new functionality in ThinkGIS.com and the latest on our early adopter program. We'll also share with you our vision for the future and where we see WTH heading in the next few years.

10:00a – 10:55a            Land Management – Planning and Zoning – Trevor Bergum/Casi Cowles

In this class, we will discuss additional options for using Think GIS besides Parcel Property Maintenance. We will show examples of what other Think GIS customers have found beneficial to their daily work tasks. Some examples may include Classified Lands, Damage Assessments and Property Assessment.

10:00a – 10:55a            GIS and Emergency – Shane Heeter

The ability to access current, accurate information quickly can make all the difference in the quality of emergency response. Think GIS is a powerful tool for easily identifying important resources and information at or near incident scenes. This session will teach you how to use GIS tools to see important emergency response information quickly and easily.

10:00a – 10:55a            Think GIS Basic Training – Shawn Scott/Cory Unger and

11:00a – 11:55a            Think GIS Basic Training – Darrin Williams/Kat Powers

This session is for those new to Think GIS, and those old hands who just need a refresher. It will cover all the basic and most often accessed tools and reveal many shortcuts and tips of which even the most seasoned user may be unaware.

11:00a – 11:55a            911 Class – Eric Lowry

Next Generation 911 is closer than ever to becoming reality. The first NG 911 data standards for Indiana are being adopted this year. In this session we'll discuss what that means for your PSAP and your GIS maintenance program. We'll share our experience in creating NG 911 compliant GIS data for several customers and what we've learned that can help you. We'll also discuss the latest developments with the Think GIS® RapidSOS interface.

11:00a – 11:55a            Mobile Mapping Software in Utility Operations – Jason Lane

As all utility people know, quick access to your data while in the field can be extremely valuable. Determining if a water line is on the north or south side of the road or where a valve is without having to make a call or go back to the office is a huge time saver. During this session we will talk about Madison, Indiana Utilities who have been using the new ThinkGIS.com mapping platform in their day to day business. We will discuss how they use its features along with the data they maintain for it on their Think GIS Desktop software.

1:00p – 2:00p            Newberry Story – Todd Johnson

Governmental agencies in Newberry County have forged strong working relationships for many years. Think GIS has been a critical resource for sharing important information between many city and county departments. In the last year the Newberry City Police and Fire Departments have added Think GIS software to enhance the work they do in the countywide public safety community. We will describe the concepts and working relationships that have been forged between government agencies in Newberry County, and, how Think GIS and its associated tools have been used to bring agencies together around common data needs.
